STARVING TO DEATH.

A Pitiable Story from Mount Pleasant, Pa.

CHILDREN CRYING FOR BREAD.

The Ravages of Dysentery—Impure Water and Filth Cause Disease and Death.

A Horrible Condition.

Mount Pleasant, August 11.—A special to the Commercial Gazette from Mount Pleasant, Pa., says: Great fears are entertained that dysentery has become epidemic in Bridgeport, a mining village one mile south of this place. To-day over thirty cases are reported and five deaths so far. Dr. Howell, town physician, is down with the disease, and like many others only slight hopes are entertained for his recovery. In many places the ravages of the disease are so terrible that the atmosphere is filled with a stench, which at times is nearly unbearable. Dysentery does not cause all the suffering. Owing to the sickness of work at the surrounding coal works, and the large number who are altogether out of employment, starvation is the lot of many children crying for bread. The head of one family stated this afternoon that there has been nothing in his house to eat for two weeks but bread and water.

Roach and the Government.

New York, August 11.—The Tribune, to-morrow, will say: The Secretary of the Navy received this afternoon the assistance of John Roach & Son, George H. Bond and George W. Quintard, and their counsel, Amos V. Vandewater. To judge of what could be done in regard to the construction of the new ironclad cruisers, the plan was to take charge of the works, plant and tools of John Roach & Son and to finish the cruisers. Mr. Bond is to handle the money and to make the profit, if there is any, acting virtually in the capacity of the government's agent. A compromise is looked upon as the outcome of Secretary Whitney's discovery that it was impossible to complete the cruisers at the government Navy Yard. The plan was investigated, the places selected where they would be built. Upon advice furnished by his agents, Secretary Whitney found it would cost at least $300,000 to get the yard in condition to build the cruisers and buy the necessary tools, and even then it would have cost five times as much in labor and materials to do the work than it would cost the contractor. The Tribune goes on to say that Secretary Whitney found the contract for the remaining work on the Chicago was $850,000, and that if done in Roach's yard it would cost $1,000,000 to complete the contract price for the completion of the Chicago and Boston was $5,500,000 each, and that the work to be done would cost $10,000,000 each. These were conditions that were discussed at the conference, and the result was an arrangement by which the assignments are to release the ship yards and plants and materials without dispute to the navy department and the work of completion is to be carried forward under the Secretary's personal supervision, the shipyard, however, to furnish the labor and materials, and are to receive full contract price for each vessel. However, it should cost more money than the stipulated price to finish the cruisers, the bondsman are to hold themselves liable. This plan was entertained by Secretary Whitney when he issued his order of August 7th.

A Scandal in Society.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., August 11.—A Hungarian lady, aged 45, appeared in thirty three weeks ago, and claimed that she was the wife of Edward H. Makk, I. D., editor and proprietor of the Rochester, Vail's Mail, a gentleman of marked literary attainments and a fine linguist, who stands high in journalistic and German society. She said she was married to Makk in Bucharest, Hungary, about twenty years ago, and the man then was Edward Makk. She lived with him, she stated, about seven years, and then he left her and came to this country. Dr. Makk has a wife with whom he has lived during his several years' residence here and the story of the woman has created something of a scandal in German society. Makk, to-day, wrote a card to the press asking that judgment in the matter be suspended until the courts shall bring an action in the case, when he will show the falsity of her claims. He denounces the woman as a blackmailer.

The Cattleman.

WASHINGTON, August 11.—General Armstrong, who recently investigated the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indian agencies, and whose report thereon had much to do with the issuance of a proclamation ordering the cattle men off that reservation, will soon proceed to the Apache agency, for the purpose of making an enrollment of the Indians there and inquiring into and reporting the condition of affairs among the Apaches.

The Royal Meetings.

BERLIN, August 11.—It is announced to-day that Emperor William and the Czar will have a meeting shortly, but at what place it has not yet been stated. The Russian Minister of Communications is already at Warsaw making preparations for the Czar's visit to the Emperor of Austria and the Emperor of Germany. The army is being mobilized to occupy different lines of railway to be traversed by the Czar and to guard the bridges, tunnels and crossings. The military precautions taken last year to protect the Czar against outrages by the nihilists are being repeated on a larger scale, owing to the reports having received information to the effect that the nihilists in Europe have recently shown great activity and seem to have plenty of money.

He maintained up to the time of his leaving, the same cool, indifferent air which he manifested yesterday and passed the day in smoking cigarettes, chatting and reading novels. He consulted General Clinie, of this city with a view of retaining him as attorney, but Clinie declined. Maxwell has proved himself such a consistent oddity that the police officers have begun to doubt his sanity.

The Baltimore and Ohio Lines.

NEW YORK, August 11.—Dr. Norvin Green, President of the Western Union Telegraph Company, makes public this evening the remainder of correspondence, chiefly cable dispatches, in regard to the negotiations for a purchase of the Baltimore and Ohio lines by the Western Union or a restoration of the telegraphic tolls by the two companies. Dr. Green gives as a reason for the publication a desire "to correct the impression made by Mr. Robert Garrett's cable card," which was sent in these dispatches last night. The first dispatch is from Dr. Green, to the Hon. John Pender, London, and appears to be in reply to a dispatch from the latter gentleman. It says that the "same form of deal" was had with the Baltimore and Ohio here (New York); that no figures were proposed, and asks whether the Baltimore and Ohio can give an order to admit of an examination of its revenues and expenses. This is dated July 8th. On July 1st, Mr. Pender says that Mr. Garrett was not prepared to exhibit his book, but suggested that the mileage of his lines was greater than that of the Atlantic and Pacific and American Union together, which absorbed by the Western Union, and seemed to think that this might serve as basis of negotiation.

July 18th, Dr. Green replied that the basis is not satisfactory, and says he could not go beyond the cost of the property as basis. July 31st, Mr. Pender asks Dr. Green if the rumors of a settlement between the companies is true, and is answered the same day that they are not. August 4th, Mr. Pender telegraphs to Dr. Green that he will see Mr. Garrett in Hamburg, and present the doctor's views. August 5, Dr. Green replies that he does not think it best to press Mr. Garrett with any urgency; that he is satisfied that they are far apart in terms; that Mr. Garrett wants a large profit, and that there must be "an end to taking in at profit." Then follows Mr. Pender's telegram of August 10, about a rise in the value of Western Union stocks, and in these dispatches last night. Under the date of August 11, Dr. Green replies at considerable length, in the course of which he says: "I think you have been imposed upon and must have acted under apprehension of facts. None in this company has represented that the deal with the Baltimore and Ohio has been made. I have steadily and uniformly denied that there was any approximation to an agreement. Special interviews with me to that effect have been published, Garrett's card and your telegram made it appear that we were pressing negotiation, whereas your letter of June 23d, shows that the first overture came from Garrett."

The correspondence concludes with a series of dispatches between Cyrus W. Field, in London, and Jay Gould, in New York, running from June 17 to August 4, in which Field says he has been invited to meet Garrett, who says he can arrange with Mackey so as to settle the tariff for cables as well as land lines, and adds that he thinks Garrett and Mackey are sick of their investments, and would like to come to some agreement. Gould replies that the Burlington and Ohio, as nearly as he can learn, "are losing over $50,000 per month in their telegraph business, and it is only a question of time when it will carry down the Baltimore and Ohio Company." He suggests that if the Baltimore and Ohio will let the auditor of the Western Union Company go over its accounts, he is prepared to go through the figures with a view to deal on the actual condition of business. August 4th, Mr. Fields' private secretary telegraphs him that Russell Sage thinks it desirable to obtain his (Garrett's) best offer of settlement or sale.

The President.

AVONDALE, N. Y., August 11.—President Cleveland, accompanied by Dr. Ward, of Albany, passed through here this morning en route for the Adirondacks. They were met at the depot by Hon. H. D. Graves and taken to his residence, where a short reception was given, after which the party was met by Paul Smith, who will take them by stage to Prospect House, where the President will spend a few weeks.

Placerville, August 11.—President Cleveland and Dr. Ward reached Prospect House, Upper Saranac Lake, their destination, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. They had a pleasant, uneventful buckboard ride of forty-seven miles from the railway terminus at Au Sable.

Capital Chills.

WASHINGTON, August 11.—Judge Chenoweth said to-day that the investigation of the coast survey bureau and the report thereon to the Secretary of the Treasury, are completed, and nothing now remains to be done in the matter by him. He denies contemplating a supplementary report, as he says it is not necessary. He expects to return to Washington in about three weeks, when he intends to begin an investigation into the conditions and workings of the geological survey. The commission will also be investigated.

Treasurer Jordan says that the statement of a misandry anding between the incoming and outgoing sub-treasurers at San Francisco, regarding the count of money in the vaults is premature if not entirely incorrect. He has received no information on the subject, and if there had been any misunderstanding of the kind stated, he certainly would have heard of it.

DEATH IN THE DEPTHS.

Criminal Carelessness in a Pennsylvania Mine.

THE FATAL SULPHUR FUMES.

A Disaster that Stands Alone and Unprecedented in the History of Mining.

Gas Explosion.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., August 11.—Information has just reached here that a terrible explosion of gas took place in the West End Coal Company's mines this morning at Moanassa, fifteen miles from here. As far as can be learned ten miners were instantly killed and several others dangerously injured.

Further intelligence of the disaster says the fan engine that supplies the fresh air to the West End mine at Moanassa, broke, depriving the mine of air. Four men have been brought to the surface dead and four or five more are yet in the mine and cannot be reached, owing to impure air. Just before the night shift went off duty the fan broke. The boss knew this and so did the men of the day shift before they entered the mines, but notwithstanding this they went into the mine taking a great risk. There were about thirty men in all, who were supplied with safety lamps, as it was well known that gas would accumulate. About seventy-five men were in the mine at the time when the disaster occurred. The workmen repairing the fan were the first who were overcome with the gas, and in about an hour later the same fate happened to many more in the mine. Before the men fairly realized the danger more than twenty were unconscious. Those who could then escape did so. Superintendent John Teasdale and several of his men became unconscious and were with difficulty rescued. Others went down and in the face of immense difficulties and in spite of being continually overpowered by gas, got out all but ten men. Three of those brought out were dead and the other six are beyond doubt dead.

The boss at the time says he notified the men before they entered the mine that the fan had stopped, that it was not safe for them to enter as the mine was filling with gas. This is denied by the miners and laborers, who, on the contrary, say that he told them to go to work; that the fan was broken but would be repaired and put in working order in an hour. When they entered the mine, everything appeared to be all right until they began to smell the fatal air and sulphur fumes. Before they could get out, many were overcome and suffocated. The disaster is considered in its nature and stands alone and unprecedented in the history of mining. It could easily have been foreseen and prevented, but being one of those singular, oversight, the cause of disaster escaped notice. The death toll is twelve.

MADRID, August 11.—Thirty-five hundred and ten cases of cholera, and 1,542 deaths throughout Spain yesterday. Beating the Insurance Companies.

PATERSON, August 11.—The co-owner of Paterson, accompanied by the chief of police, coroner of Hunter's Point, Long Island, and a couple of physicians, went to the Lutheran cemetery, near the latter place, to-day, to exhumate the body of the woman. On the way to the cemetery Chief of Police Grant told a representative of the Associated Press, the following story:

"For two years past a family named Bauer, occupying a highly respectable position in society, resided at Hamilton, near Paterson, N. J. The Bauer family had previously resided in New York City, and appeared to be people of wealth. Early in last June Mrs. Bauer was taken sick, and after ten days illness died, as certified by the attending physician of peritonitis. Mr. Bauer seemed to feel the loss of his wife deeply, and had an expensive funeral. The memory of the late Mrs. Bauer had almost died out in Haledon, when some strange rumors got about which startled the community. It was learned that Mrs. Bauer's life had been heavily insured in several companies, and some peculiar circumstances surrounding her illness and death led to the suspicion that she had been murdered in order to obtain the amount of the insurance, and defrauding the parties. The total insurance of Mrs. Bauer's life was $55,000. It is understood the Equitable Life Insurance Company paid the amounts of their policies before rumors of the fraud got abroad. Officers of the Mutual Reserve Company, learning of the supposed foul play, after consulting with other companies, decided to refuse payment until a thorough investigation had been made. The theories advanced by the parties were that Mrs. Bauer had been poisoned, or that she had been taken away and that another body or dummy had been buried in the cemetery. Arriving at the cemetery the body was exhumed, and the coffin opened. Upon being measured, the body was found to be six inches shorter than Mrs. Bauer's height when she was alive. One of the physicians, who had examined Mrs. Bauer when applications for insurance were put in, said Mrs. Bauer had a pug nose and light hair, while the corpse had a Grecian nose and dark hair; but he would not be positive on all particulars. Drs. Satterthwaite and Chessman, of New York, then opened the body and took out the intestines, which they examined and sealed up. They refused to give the result of the examination until they shall have made a more careful examination in New York, where the intestines have been taken. The body was placed again in the coffin and reinterred. Louis Bauer, the husband of the dead woman, to whom all policies are payable, carries on a real estate agency, at No. 150 Broadway, New York."

The Kidnapped Kid.

LOS ANGELES, August 11.—Sir Richard A. Cross, Home Secretary, in answer to an inquiry made by Rt. Hon. Geo. A. Bantick, conservative member for White Haven, concerning a 13-year-old daughter of Mrs. Eliza Armstrong, alleged to have been decoyed from home by an agent of the Salvation Army, and then held in duress by Mrs. Booth for the purpose of exhibiting her as a minor saved by the Army from a wicked life, said the government had submitted the evidence so far obtained in the case to Attorney General Webster. This statement was cheered.
